REPRESENTATIVE LEED® PROJECTS

SPECIALIZING IN GREEN BUILDING

Orr Partners is a member of U.S. Green Building Council, with multiple certified LEED® AP project managers on our staff. In addition, all of our staff has received LEED training. We encourage and facilitate the use of sustainable LEED practices on our design build and/or renovation projects. We are pleased to have managed the first LEED Gold project in Loudoun County in 2008. Representative samples of Orr Partners LEED projects are:

1331 L Street, N.W.
Washington D.C.

The Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA) building at 1331 L Street is a LEED registered project which consists of 170,000 SF and 10 stories. It is one of only three office buildings in our nation's capital that has achieved LEED Gold Core and Shell 2.0. The Mortgage Bankers Association committed to developing a LEED certified building after the design was completed and the General Contractor was engaged. Orr Partners' team was retained by MBA to manage and collaborate closely with the developer, designer, and contractor to design and incorporate the necessary changes to the project. LEED Gold Certification was accomplished for less than a 1% increase to the purchase price of the building. Through careful tracking, implementation, and documentation, the team was able to achieve all of the proposed points to receive LEED Gold Certification. Nationally, only 18 office buildings are registered LEED Gold Core and Shell 2.0.

Childcare Center – Phase II
Confidential Client / Location

This 19,000 SF state-of-the-art corporate childcare facility is located in Loudoun County, Virginia. Childcare Center - Phase II was designed to mirror the corporation's original childcare facility that was so well subscribed to by its employees that a second phase was quickly planned. The facility is a one story, masonry veneer and wood frame structure on approximately six acres. The design challenge was to maximize the client's programming, employee desires and demand within a building footprint dictated by a previously approved site plan and building orientation. These programming requirements consisted of multiple levels of child development classrooms to accommodate infants, toddlers and Pre-K rooms. Administrative offices and a large welcoming lobby completed the remainder of the building perimeter.

Orr Partners was retained to manage every aspect of design, engineering and construction necessary to achieve a LEED Gold rating by the US Green Building Council (USGBC). Childcare Center – Phase II has received a LEED Gold rating, making it the first LEED Gold building in Loudoun County and the first LEED certified childcare facility in the state of Virginia.

Orr Partners has been in business for over twenty-two years contributing to the development and construction of numerous LEED projects. Clients look to our firm for management expertise and advocacy, which is best provided by people with years in the field and the kind of experience that allows us to anticipate problems before they become obstacles. We are a leader in sustainable, environmentally intelligent construction and project management.
