Orr Construction Management at Powder Mountain

Reston, VA (June 21, 2018) – Powder Mountain has engaged Orr Partners for construction and project management services on various projects on the mountain as the resort continues to expand. As the developer of the Copper Crest West townhouse development, Orr has formed a solid relationship with the Powder Mountain ownership. Orr will be managing civil work and providing oversight on six other developments currently under construction. “Powder Mountain is really an amazing place that has flown under the radar for a long time,” commented Scott Siegel, President of Orr Partners. “Being involved with the development of the mountain is a one-of-a-kind experience.”

Tyler Orr, who is managing Orr’s Copper Crest West development, will also manage these additional projects on Powder Mountain. Tyler will draw on his experience and familiarity with the resort to manage these additional projects. “Powder is one of the most beautiful places to build and the challenges of mountain construction make it an exciting place to develop,” he stated.
